Great weather for travel, relatively speaking... The early morning thunderstorms cleared out the last weeks worth of snow, ice, and heavy fog. Our trip to Chicago dealt with moderate rain and some light fog. The first two flights departed from O'Hare on time with the third flight taking on only a half-hour delay. The highlight of the last flight was meeting Leslie David Baker who plays Stanley Hudson in the television series "The Office".

After a two hour bus trip from LAX in the early evening everyone arrived at the hotel, checked in, and grabbed some pizza for dinner. A few took in the hot-tub, the pool, or sat about the fire-pit.
