

IVC Band Camp Blog

04-August-2009

Tuesday morning started well but was interrupted by rain. Everyone hung out in the cabins during the thunderstorms then broke out into sectionals after things died down into a steady rain. By mid-afternoon we were back on track working on cleaning up the first tune and proceed with the second tune. Clarinets donned their sectional t-shirts and war paint to show their solidarity.

The seniors revived Midnight Marchdown but with a twist. Rather than pulling freshmen out to do drills Dan Dietrich became the focus of everyone's attention. The band formed a circle around Dan and Tyler Sutton barked out drill patterns "Dan-style". The band staff quickly came to Dan's rescue and joined in the drill. After a few comedic patterns the whole band joined in for a few more drills. To finish up the band again formed a circle with the seniors in the middle. Ross Romane then requested the freshmen to take a step in towards the center. The seniors then formally welcomed the freshmen into the Grey Ghost band.

Spirit Award winners for Tuesday go to Leah Ramseyer, Ross Romane, Abby Velazquez, Miles Bannister, Brandon Phelps, Will Carruthers, and Scott Hale.
