

IVC Band Camp Blog

06-August-2009

The IVC Marching Band's continued success depends on a strong band camp staff. This dedicated group of individuals spends countless hours critiquing musical and marching style. Their efforts brought out the best in the Marching Grey Ghosts this last week. We worked all three tunes and cleaned up the majority of the show. If you happen to meet any one of the band staff members in your travels please give them heartfelt thanks for all they have done for the IVC program this week.

A number of IVC Marching Band alumni showed up Thursday afternoon to say farewell to Dan and wish him well in his last season. The alumni joined us for Senior skit night, introduced themselves to the current band members, and related stories about their memorable moments when they were band members.

Along with alumni reflections and the senior skits is a new tradition: The Chilli Awards. The award is taped to a can of Hormel chili and is presented by another band member. As of this writing I do not have a list of the award winners but will add to the next newsletter. Stay tuned.

Spirit Award winners for Thursday go to Jessica Williams, Megan Otto, Megan Lambert, and Shane Hornibrook.
